STEAK OUT

America's legendary steakhouse, Morton's of Chicago, shares its culinary secrets in a new cookbook by co-founder, Klaus Fitch. Morton's Steak Bible is an absolute treat for foodies. It contains 100 recipes, from Morton's steak specialities to salads, side dishes and delicious desserts – all illustrated with mouth watering full-colour photography. The book is also peppered with fascinating anecdotes and insider lore taken from Morton's 28-year history. Available at the Morton's of Chicago restaurant at The Oriental Hotel and selected bookstores. It retails at S$51.40 (inclusive of prevailing taxes).

TECH FLIGHT

Inspired by luxury and aviation, the Vertu Constellation brings new meaning to the term 'out of this world'. Created by luxury mobile phone manufacturer, Vertu, the super smooth, scratch-resistant keypad is made from the same material used on the exterior of the space shuttle, while the phone's fluid surface is a nod to the classic aircraft. There are seven handcrafted models – in black, tan, chocolate or pink leather to pick from and they are available in stainless steel or gold finishes. Price ranges from S$6,700 for satin stainless steel black leather to S$28,000 for the 18 carat yellow gold black leather.

THE WRITE STUFF

Write in style with Pilot's range of limited edition fountain pens handcrafted by Namiki Kokkokai, a group of highly-trained lacquerware craftsmen. The pens, made to commemorate Pilot's 88th anniversary, draw on the delicate beauty of Maki-e craftsmanship – a traditional skill that has been handed down from generation to generation for 80 years – and feature two exquisite motifs: Shishi-Komainu (Guardian Dogs) and Nioh (Guardian Gods). With only 88 pieces of Shishi-Komainu (S$18,800 each) and 880 pieces of Nioh (S$2,188 each) out in the market, these limited edition fountain pens will definitely be coveted by collectors. 🍀
